

July 12, 2024

The tables and charts on our website displaying data split by demographic group have been updated with corrected July preliminary values. Any July 2024 data on demographic splits downloaded from our data site today prior to noon today should be re-downloaded to reflect the corrections. Demographic data for earlier months, along with all aggregate estimates (including headline sentiment indexes and inflation expectations) were unaffected by the error.

Please email umsurvey@umich.edu if any questions arise.
